SUPER SIMPLE STEPS: You need Goo in Dark Brown

1. Water down Cream and Tan by mixing 50/50 paint and water.
2. Apply two coats of the watered-down colors to the top of the plate, alternating colors as you reload your brush. Allow the colors to overlap and mix. Allow the plate to dry for a few minutes.
3. Use a screen squeegee to apply the turkey in the center of the screen with Dark Brown goo. You can use masking tape to tape off any elements on the screen that are too close to the turkey to make it easier. Rinse and dry the screen.
4. Apply leaves going around the rim of the plate, rinsing the screen as needed.
5. Water down some Light Brown paint by mixing 50/50 paint and water.
6. Use a toothbrush and splatter the entire top of the platter.
7. Glaze, fire, and admire! (if doing a class, make sure everyone has their name on the back!)
